Government Road Building

Congressman Flood has introduced in the House of Representatives a bill for the appropriation of $200,000,000; $50,000,000 to be available during 1919, $75,000,000 to be available during 1920 and the remaining $75,000,000 to be available during 1921, for the construction of Rural Post Roads, which the bill declares to mean any public road which is now used, or may be suitable, for the transportation of the United States mails. And we are advised that there is strong probability of the passage of the bill.

In 1904 Sr. Flood offered a bill for the appropriation of $25,000,000 annually to be used in building Rural Post Roads and in advocacy of the passage of the bill stated among other things, "The power is expressly given to Congress by the Constitution 'to provide for the general welfare.' And the general welfare of this country demands at this time nothing so imperatively as it does a good system of public roads—a thing which we can never have without the aid of the Federal Government. The right kind of roads can only be built and will only be built when the National Government lends a helping hand. If the agricultural communities of this country are ever to be thoroughly developed and made desirable as places of abode during all seasons of the year, it can only be done when the Federal Government has determined to aid in the consunction of proper highways and turn pikes. The farming element in the country constitutes about 35 per cent of its population, and it is not fair or equitable to expect it unaided to build and maintain the public highways of the county. It creates the wealth of the nation, which largely finds its way into the pockets of other people, and yet has been required unaided to maintain the highways of the nation."

Continuously since the introduction of the bill in 1904 Mr. Flood has advocated the enactment by Congress of such law and it now seems that his efforts will bear fruit.

Mr. Flood being himself a farmer (he lives on the farm on which six generations of his ancestors lived and which they farmed), he knows the needs of farmers and has for them a fellow feeling.

Anticipating the passage of the bill referred to above, we congratulate Mr. Flood on the success of his persistent efforts to improve the road conditions of the country, and ourselves on having this brought about by our representative.—Newcastle Record.

Our Schools, Gentlemen

Why's your esteemed paper has always given its valuable columns for the benefit of the public interest, I think it would be doubly interesting at this time to say a few words about school finance.

Just now as the "political pot" will soon begin to boil, I expect as usual, to see the politicians pounce on the schools and roads looking for raw material which elect or defeat some candidate. Being interested in all schools of the county, I have made some inquiries of late relative to the cost of maintaining some of them. Incidentally of the facts gathered as follows:

Sometime ago the financial statement of the public schools were printed in your paper without comment. I observed that the school of which I am principal spent last year almost as much money for the pay of teachers as the entire Clover Hill district, which district spent more than any district in the county.

This attracted my attention at first, and doubtless anyone would naturally remark that something must be wrong in that the Appomattox Agricultural School spent as much as an entire district. Now, this is just what I want to discuss and do wish to say in the beginning that the Appomattox Agricultural School with its present system of organization is the cheapest school in the county when you take into consideration what the rate of cost per pupil is per month or how much it costs the county to educate its children.

Clover Hill District last session paid out to teachers, per the report, $4 363 65, but the report did not show that there were only 333 pupils in Clover Hill district last session, including 58 negroes, and that the great majority of these pupils are below high school age, and the great majority of the schools were run only six months. Pamplin and Vera, I believe, have eight month terms. True, on a six month basis, it cost the Clover Hill District Board about $3.10 per pupil per month, as there was an average daily attendance last year of 333 pupils per month, per official report from Mr. Hart.

The Appomattox Agricultural School spent last year for pay of teachers, per this same report, $6,226.35. Now, here was an enrollment of 465 pupils, and an average attendance of approximately 300 white children every day for nine months. This, computed, made it cost the county $2 10 per pupil per month and this includes, mind you, about 125 or more high school pupils, whereas Clover Hill district had about 25 high school pupils, or at any rate a much smaller number than the school here.

From this it follows that a six month session in Clover Hill for one pupil costs about $18 60, while a nine-month session here cost for one pupil about $18 90. So then if these facts are true, I think the School Board of Appomattox should feel highly complimented on the extremely economic method of education practiced at the Appomattox Agricultural School, for we are teaching pupils here for a nine month session for the same that the rural schools of Clover Hill are paying for a six month session; or in other words we are teaching the same length of time for about 1 less cost to the county. In this I am not assuming that the Agricultural school is doing any better work or that it teachers hold as a higher grade of certificates. I leave that for our patrons to say.

Now do not misunderstand me. I do not think the teachers in the rural schools are paid too much or that they should be paid less, in fact I think they should be paid more, and their salary should be in keeping with their profession and other professions and pursuits, etc., but I do wish to assert that too little is being spent on the children of this school. I do not, in this connection, advocate higher pay for the teachers in this school, but I do insist that this school should have a larger number of teachers. Look at the grades in this school. There are 260 pupils now on roll in the grades, with only five teachers coaching the county only $1 25 per month per pupil. One teacher here now has in her room alone 80 pupils and she gets only $60 00 per month. Gentle reader, this ought not so to be. It is too cheap, it is unjust both to pupil and teacher. If there were 10 teachers in the grades instead of 5, it would not be a one too many and would not cost the county as much then as it is paid to the teachers of Clover Hill this session.

This is economy?

This is economy in the management on the rules 50 of first class high school, which provides that there must be one teacher to every 35 pupils enrolled below the high school grade. This school has 55 average, which is just about twice as many as there should be per teacher. The teacher can not do the child justice, nor is she doing herself fair to undertake it.

But let's compare still further some of the leading graded schools in the county with this school, as to cost.

At Pamplin, 150 pupils, month ly cost $330, or $2 20 per pupil

At Oakville, 32 pupils, monthly cost $225, or $3 10 per pupil.

At Vera, 90 pupils, monthly cost $2 75, or $2 05 per pupil.

At Appomattox, 467 pupils, monthly cost $950, or $1 48.

Thus it appears that any way you figure it, the Appomattox school not only is cheapest school, but it is entirely too cheap. It is either unjust to the children who attend here, or it is hardship upon the teacher in charge.

Mr. Hart has sent me a list of all best schools in the State, with the costs at each of the schools. There are about 400 Only eight of this four hundred are teaching grades for as little cost as we are here, and only 12 of the 400 are spending as little as we are on the high school pupil. These are practical facts and it may be well for our people to think on them, and for the purpose of finding unscrupulous politicians, but to see if some relief cannot be found

I am sure the School Board of the county will do all in their power to aid, as they have always considered the welfare of the children of the county.

In my next article I will endeavor to show how a remedy can be made which will in some measure solve the situation.

L. CRAWLEY.

Many Interesting Reports Made of Her People.

The Farmers' Union of Buckingham county will meet at Buckingham Courthouse on Saturday, 22d.

There will also be a meeting of all the trustees in the county on the 22d. At this meeting the question as to whether or not the trustees will accept Governor Davis' invitation to meet him in Richmond on Feb. 27th, will come up for consideration

Mr. P. P. Glover has been sick during the past week.

Private G. M. Rogers, at Camp Humphreys, who has been ill with influenza, is improving.

Mrs S B B edurant, who has been sick during the past week, is recovering from a severe attack of influenza.

Miss Evelyn Garnett, a student at Blackstone College, came home Saturday for a few days

William Baldwin who joined the Navy some time ago, is among the Buckingham boys who have returned home.

Miss Minnie Eldridge and Mrs. P. E Tucker have been to Richmond to hear Billy Sunday. The country people who have been so fortunate as to hear the evangelist, tell of the wonderful magnetism of the man. His popularity seems to be increasing in Richmond. If there were any people who had no faith in him, it seems that those who came to scoff remained to pray

A private letter received here from Eastern North Carolina tells of a deep snow which fell there on Sunday night, 9th.

Misses Roma Garnett and Maria Pratt have been sick during the past week.

Mrs. W. E. Pratt has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs Willie Crute.

Mr. Leslie Tooder, who left here on the 10th, will go in training at the Johnston-Willis Hospital in Richmond.

Elam

The farmers keep busy cleaning up new grounds and plowing, when the land is in order.

There has been right much sickness in the neighborhood for the past week or so, but glad to say the patients are reported getting along very nicely at this writting.

There will be services at Olive Branch next Sunday at 3 p. m. Everybody is invited to attend and hear a good sermon.

Mrs. George Wade and little son were visitors in the home of Mrs. Bettie Elam, Sunday.

Messrs. Robert and John Elam have gone to Philadelphia to get work.

There was a box party given at the home of Mr. J. N. Dickerson, near Pamplin, Saturday night, 15th, which was enjoyed by the young people of the community.

Messrs. Elmer and Charlie Price, of Madisonville, were visitors to their grandfather, Mr. R D. Price, for the weekend.

Mr. C. J. Dunn and family, who have been spending the winter with Mrs Dunn's parents, are expected to return to their home in New York in the near future.

Is the reward still out for the Charlotte correspondent? We would like to hear from him again. Uncle Josh and Aunt Patsy must be very ill with the flu, as we do not hear anything from them any more.

Would like to hear what the slave to say about the groundhog this time.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive. Such is the testimony of Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hope, N.C. "I could not stand on my feet, and felt miserable and terrible," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. —— had us get Cardui. . . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my neighbors know, what Cardui did for me, for my illness and health were about gone."

TAKE CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

Good For Appomattox Boy

Mrs. W. S. Woolridge is in receipt of a letter from her son, H. Woolridge, in which he states her has details of a partnership which has just been formed in the city of Mc Allen, Texas, of which Mr. A. B. Harvey, of Fort Worth, is general contractor, is president and himself as vice president. They are doing business under the firm name of Harvey & Woolridge, general contractors, and are making a specialty of fine road construction. This partnership has existed since Feb ruary first and at the time of writing of his letter he stated that they had under actual construction work around $100,000 in value, with many prospects, that makes them feel that their business for the year will reach the half million dollar mark.

Mail He Likes Best

Mr. F. S. Royster, President of the F. S. Royster Guano Company, says that the part of his mail which he likes best consists of the letters from farmers who write him about the actual use of his goods, the results in the fields, crops grown, etc. No matter how many large problems of business management may present themselves, he is more deeply interested than anything else in the actual user of his goods. He believes that this is the vital part of the business, because if the consumer is satisfied, success will follow of itself. In his life-time experience he has found that fairness has proven this forty pretty conclusively, as the sales of the Royster brands have shown a growth that is unprecedented. Those who would like to have the benefit of his broad experience in soil fertility would do well to write him at Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Sam Price of Pamplin, has just returned from France, and the story that Sam tells is "some" war tale And the way he is butchered up I very much doubt if we hear it all. Just think of a man with one arm and one leg broken and one leg shot off, and one eye, and face disfigured, and worst of all having to lie on the battle field in this condition for four days, as the ambulance corps could not reach him on account of heavy shell fire.

Sam says he is sorry to be so cut up, but that he is glad he went

Some time back I made mention of how the foxes were making havoc with our poultry and by the hunters came with their hounds and caught 12, first and last. And now for the last month it looks as if there are about 40 more of the foxes, but I have not been able to get the hunters out, so one of my neighbors said to me, show me where the fox travels and I will show you the fox.

And sure enough he came with six or more little traps and the next morning, to my surprise, one of the biggest old bull red and black tailed foxes was caught by the front foot; and on the second morning we had caught another, making the fourth fox Mr. Burrell has caught in less than a year.

It is reminded of our much unused "Uncle Farmville" when I went in for dinner, my wife having prepared a nice dish of terrapin stew. Just think —a middle of winter and a green salad patch.

I am sure if me gentleman who borrowed my pocket knife only knew how much I was being handicapped without it he would hand to Mr. Paulett at the Pamplin warehouse for me.

To increase the yield and profit to pay a high price for talc perfumed with an odor that costs thousands of dollars to produce would be unnatural. Yet Talc Jontcel costs you no more than ordinary talcums.

The Jontcel odor is a refined and refreshing new bouquet of rare individuality and subtle charm.

Almost everything has been said to disgust teeth except murder; but one never can tell what might be the outcome of jumpin' toothache.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"What helped you over the great obstacles of life?" was asked a successful man. "The other obstacles," said he

There's a hint. Do not recognize difficulties as obstacles, but as a means of showing your power. For instance, take the financial phase:—

Are your habits stumbling blocks or stepping stones?
Are you haphazard or business-like?
Are you paying your bills in cash or by check?
Are you extravagant or frugal?
Are you securing the best service from your bank?

Think about it. Are you getting all you are entitled to? It depends upon yourself, you know.

We stand ready to do for you all that any Bank can do for its customers, and you will like the courtesy and personality of our officers and clerks.

is run especially for the eye of those who live away from Richmond.

Last week a nice account was opened through the mail by a resident of Southside Virginia.

On the signature card, in answer to the question "Introduced by whom?" he replied, "Times-Dispatch!"

Many of our customers live out of town, and transact their business by mail.

We want others!

Please note the attractive terms:
